Introduction

In all, the Warren Commission had 1555 "Commission Documents" (CD's), ranging in size and complexity from single page "documents" to "documents" of several volumes of diverse material. Some of these "documents" were printed as Commission Exhibits (CE's).

However, the "documents" were not printed (in the 26 volumes accompanying the Report), as Commission Documents (CD's), but were shuffled, renumbered, and then printed as Commission Exhibits (CE's). Some documents were printed in whole; some were printed in part; many were split up with some parts printed, some not printed; some were neither printed nor made available in unprinted form in the National Archives. Thus identification and location of Commission Documents is made extremely difficult.

Although the National Archives has mimeographed (and will sell for $37.00) a list of Commission Documents and their individual availability or unavailability, no effort has been made to cross reference the Commission Document numbers with the corresponding shuffled Commission Exhibit numbers which are essential if one either wants to find a "document" in the printed volumes, or if one wants to analyze what material is being withheld from the public.

In order to clarify the status and availability of the 1555 Commission Documents (and parts thereof), as well as to identify and spotlight the material which is currently withheld from the public, the attached cross reference between CD's and CE's has been prepared.

Column 1 contains the 1555 CD's listed numerically.

Column 2 contains the author or source of the document.

Column 3 contains a list of the pages of the particular document which have been printed in the 26 volumes.

Column 4 contains the Exhibit number assigned to the Document.

Column 5 contains a list of the pages of the particular document which have not been printed but are available in the National Archives.

Column 6 contains a list of the pages of the particular document which have neither been printed nor made available in the Archives, i.e. withheld from public view.
